

Local News: At the Journal Broadcast Group stations (KVOO/KXBL/KFAQ) in Tulsa we are committed to providing timely and credible local news and information. We broadcast 86 local newscasts per week on KFAQ; 35 local newscasts per week on KXBL and 35 local newscasts per week on KVOO. In addition, we offer local news, information and public service/community news on each station's websites. Weather forecasts and traffic updates are also highlighted in each cast and throughout the day.

Local Public Affairs: Our stations are heavily involved in local public affairs on a on-going basis. Examples: All of our morning shows offer on-air interviews with community leaders, charity groups, politicians and city & state agencies giving them the opportunity to talk directly to our listeners. We record and re-broadcast these interviews on Saturday or Sundays mornings, depending on the station. The JBG stations in Tulsa are members of the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce and support/promote the chamber events throughout the year.

Creating or Selecting Programming: Absolutely! We are always searching for better ways of serving our community with more impactful programming. Examples: We interrupt regular programming at all times for severe weather updates, across the cluster. We cover special event news stories such as presidential addresses and news conferences, live local events such as fires or hostage situations; Amber Alerts, flooding and etc... We have an open door policy when it comes to access to our airwaves by local community leaders. Mayor LaFortune, Senator Inhofe and Police Chief Dave Been are just a few of our local/state leaders who often appear on our stations. Local high school sports scores are broadcast on our stations and we often hold on-air pep-rallies during our morning shows with members of the school's pep squads.

Emergency Programming: We provide live coverage across our cluster of important emergency situations. We participate in the EAS program and support the Amber Alert system. Severe weather emergencies; traffic and crime updates are immediate and plentiful on our stations. We have invested in back-up generators at our transmitter sites and are the exclusive subscribers to "The Weather Channel" in this area.

Political Programming: Yes, we support our local political candidates, particularly on our News/Talk station KFAQ, by offering free airtime to any in-studio guest whether they're running for office, promoting an issue, or an office holder promoting a piece of legislation. During the election cycle we provide long-form election coverage and strongly support voter registration through on-air promos and interviews.

Civic, Cultural and other Community Responsive Programming: We offer a daily Farm Report on KVOO as well as a live weekly 30-minute Horse/Cattle Care show on KFAQ. We air a wide variety of public service announcements, at least 10 times per day, on all three stations. We participate in the Tulsa State Fair every year with on-site live broadcasting/coverage throughout the event. In addition, we originate and promote community service campaigns like "Turkeys for Tulsans," "MS Road Rallies" and the "Children's Miracle Network Radiothon" annually, as just a few examples.

Music: At KVOO and KXBL we pride ourselves on promoting local talent whenever possible. Two examples: Annually we promote a "Battle of the Band" type contest allowing local artists to compete for the opportunity to open a concert for a well-know artist. Plus, we broadcast a locally produced music program weekly on KVOO featuring a local group - The Red Dirt Rangers- during which they promote local artists and their music.

Station Participation in Community Activities: Yes, all across our cluster of stations, and throughout the year, we continually support non-profit and charity initiatives. Examples: The Children's Miracle Network Radiothon, Red Ribbon Week, The MS 150 Bike Tour, John 3-16 Mission, The Day Center for the Homeless, American Red Cross Blood Drives, Turkeys for Tulsans, Oktoberfest, The Cornerstone Assistance Network, The Salvation Army Woman's Auxiliary, and more! In addition, all JBG Tulsa Department Heads are required to be directly involved with at least one charitable/non-profit organization every year.

Bottom line: We are fully committed to serving our local community at KVOO/KXBL/KFAQ!
